Pastoral Perspective

The scene Jesus describes in the parable recorded in Matthew 20:1-16 is that of a farmer hiring day laborers throughout the day to work in his vineyard. For people not fortunate enough to own property or be regular workers for a property owner, finding employment was really difficult. The job market was very tough in Jesus' time. Folks were desperate and would grab any work they could get. Someone who got hired and didn't have to just stand around anxiously hoping for work was naturally grateful.

In the parable, the farmer's heart obviously went out to the many folks standing around without work. Every time he encountered a group of would-be-workers during the day, he had compassion on them and sent them to work the rest of the day in his vineyard. It became clear that he was concerned about more than just the work to be done in his vineyard. He generously desired to share with those in need.

The farmer's generous nature showed itself at the end of the day. He paid each worker a day's wage regardless of when they started. Some had worked all day, others just a while. And surprise, the workers who had been so grateful to have a day's work at the beginning of the day were upset because the ones who hadn't worked as long were paid the same amount as they were. They felt they were more deserving than the latecomers. They wanted separate treatment. They couldn't really argue for more pay since they had agreed to their wage, but they could certainly grumble saying that the latecomers should get less.

When one is down, one naturally looks for compassion, but as soon as one is partially back on his or her feet a different standard is often sought. There comes a desire to have things ranked and divided so that everyone has a clear idea of who is ahead of whom and who is more deserving. That became very important to these workers. It may not have been the money as much as the wish to be set off from those others who had come later. In order to feel more worthy, folks often look to discover others who seem less worthy and then point them out with scorn. Unfortunately, this desire to feel more worthy permeates most all of human society.

This craving for status and separate treatment is so intense that people who have been recipients of God's mercy will actually turn around and point out others they don't believe are as worthy of that same mercy. Jesus, in His parable, is showing how folks say to God, "Stop being so generous now that you have extended your mercy to me. By extending that mercy to others so indiscriminately you are violating the pecking order we have established among ourselves.” Of course, by definition, you can’t earn mercy. If you could earn it, it wouldn’t be mercy.

So the argument of the day laborers, although it might be valid in a modern-day labor dispute, is irrelevant in a Christian context. We need always to remember that as we share the victory of Jesus with others we are simply sharing something that has been so generously given to us.

Spreading, Serving, and Sharing with You,
Pastor Carl

TRAVEL WITH RICK STEVES ON THE WEDNESDAYS IN JULY!

You have a wonderful opportunity to take part in a potluck dinner and virtual travel experience to four exciting locations with Rick Steves on the four Wednesdays in July. We will meet in Schultz Hall at 6:30 p.m. each Wednesday from July 6th through July 27th. After a delightful potluck dinner together, Rick Steves will lead us by DVD to an exciting faith-filled location.

The next Wednesday we will travel to the eastern Mediterranean to experience the life and ministry of the Apostle Paul. We will learn about Paul’s teachings that are so vital to the Christian faith while seeing some marvelous sights.

The third Wednesday we will go to Papua New Guinea to learn how we are woven together in a global neighborhood.

The fourth Wednesday we will travel with Rick to South Central Los Angeles to consider how we are working in the city for good! Plan now to attend these special travel experiences with the world renowned travel leader, Rick Steves.

SYNOD COUNCIL REPORT

Ed and I would like to take a moment to thank the Council for the opportunity to attend the 29th Annual Sierra Pacific Synod Assembly in Reno, Nevada, June 3-5. The theme of the weekend was "We Are Church Together," and this was made very apparent by the many different congregations that came together that weekend to learn, make church-wide decisions, and worship together.

ELCA Presiding Bishop Elizabeth Eaton and Bishop Mark Holmerud were in attendance to offer their wisdom and expertise on where we are as a church today and where we are looking to move forward in the future. Eaton invited us to participate in the ELCA process "Forward Together in Christ." You too can participate in this process: download the toolkit, watch a video with Bishop Eaton discussing this process, and learn more online by visiting www.elca.org/future. We would encourage you to check this information out if you are able.

We were treated to a Bible study led by a young man named Luke Hanson. He shared with us his experience as a Young Adult in Global Mission (YAGM) in Rwanda. Using the story of the Ethiopian eunuch, he shared that his faith was strongly influenced during his time in Rwanda. He thought he was going to be Philip and teach, instead he was the Ethiopian; he received the Gospel in a new way, then returned home rejoicing.

We attended a very interesting workshop on the upcoming 500th Anniversary of the Reformation. The ELCA has a website dedicated to celebratory events. Please check it out: www.elca500.org

There were elections of Council Members and several resolutions were passed. Our Synod Council District B Lay Female representative is Sherrill Hines, and the District 3 Dean Clergy representative is Pastor Leslie Welton from St. John's in Sacramento. A complete list of all those elected can be found on the www.spselca.org website.

The following resolutions were passed:

- Resolution 2016-1, Regarding ELCA World Hunger
- Resolution 2016-2, Regarding Sierra Pacific Synod Compensation Guidelines
- Resolution 2016-3, Regarding Growth in Mission Support
- Resolution 2016-4, Regarding U.S. Aid to the State of Israel
- Resolution 2016-5, Regarding Corporate Social Responsibility in Palestine and Israel
- Resolution 2016-6, Regarding the Racial and Ethnic Ministries

For the full text of the resolutions, see the Assembly Handbook at www.spselca.org

The Assembly adopted a 2016-17 Budget which showed an anticipated total revenue of $2,229,590 and expected expenses of $2,432,998. In addition to the revenue, $261,040 from a non-recurring sale of property will be applied toward the budget.

The Assembly approved changes to the Synod Constitution S9.04 that bring the bishop election process into compliance with the suggested process throughout the ELCA.

We thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to learn about the inner workings of our church and would love to be considered for attendance at the assembly in the future. We would also like to encourage other members to attend as well.

I think the main lesson we got out of the weekend was that we, as a congregation, need to be both welcoming and inviting to all people. We need to open our doors and hearts to people of every race, sex, ethnicity, and sexual orientation without prejudice. We Are Church Together.

In Christ,
Ed and Kirsten Ireton

Summer is upon us! First, I wanted to extend congratulations to Daniel Encinas on his recent graduation from Army Basic Combat Training on June 10th. We are very proud of Daniel and wish him well in his future endeavors. Please remember to keep him and his family in your prayers.

We did not have a meeting in June, but we plan to meet on July 10th at noon to plan a couple of outings and a service project.

I also hope that SLY will consider attending the Wednesday evening Bible Studies and potlucks with their families. These studies are always interesting, and the food is great too!
